Purpose & Objectives

PURPOSE: This course is designed to provide the practicing colon and rectal surgeon with updates on important aspects of caring for patients with colon and rectal diseases. Emphasis is placed on a broad range of topics to address the needs of a diversified group of attendees.

OBJECTIVES: At the end of this program, the participants should be able to:

Wednesday, March 1st
- Identify the benefits and risks of using ureteral catheters in colorectal surgery
- Discuss the pathophysiology of anastomotic leaks and ways to mitigate them
- Describe the transanal technique of transanal total mesorectal excision (TME) and discuss outcomes

Thursday, March 2nd
- Describe types of colorectal injuries in Operation Enduring Freedom (OEF) and Operation Iraqi Freedom (OIF) and ways to deal with these types of injuries
- Recognize the impact of social media in the personal and professional lives of surgeons
- Assess the procedural basis and results of hyperthermic intraperitoneal chemotherapy for abdominal carcinomatosis
- Discuss Enhanced Recovery pathways and outcomes designed to improve patient recovery and reduce surgical morbidity
- Describe basic urogynecology anatomy and how to examine and diagnose pelvic organ prolapse
- Identify treatment options for pelvic organ prolapse and urinary incontinence
- Outline the Medicare Access to Care and CHIP Reauthorization Act of 2015 (MACRA) and discuss how these reforms, once implemented, will impact physicians

Friday, March 3rd
- Review approaches to Pilonidal disease
- Review approaches to severe hidradenitis
- Analyze the current status of minimally invasive surgery for rectal cancer focusing on the robotic approach
- Discuss short and long-term outcomes of Robotic TME versus laparoscopic TME
- Discuss optimal surgical approaches and recovery pathways for the elderly colorectal surgery patient
- Describe the spectrum and degree of difficulty associated with complex colorectal and anorectal surgery patients
- Review approaches to cys tocele, rectocele and enterocele
- Describe the workup and treatment of colorectal and small bowel neuroendocrine tumors
- Identify new available modalities of radiation therapy for patients with rectal cancer
- Identify ways to mitigate pain after anorectal surgery
